Seahawks Did It Again!
Super Bowl 60

The museum was excited to be close to the parade. And be part of the celebrations for the Seahawks.

Such as 2 businesses away, Raising Cane opens its doors and guess who was the guest.

The quarterback of the Seahawks! Look at lines and lines of people waiting for the chance to say hello and thank you for winning.

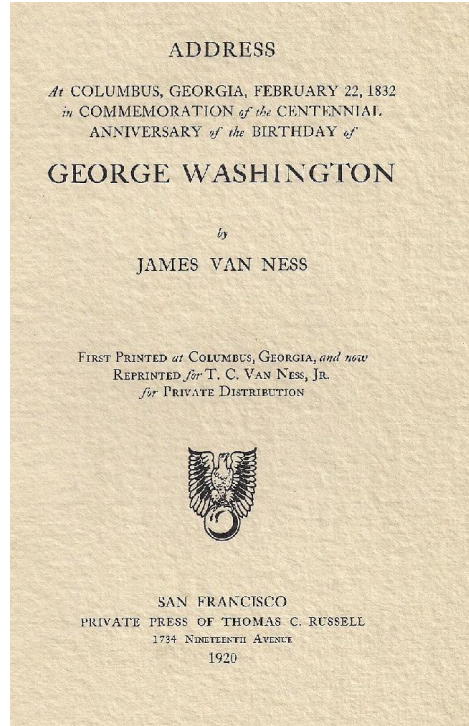

Celebrating President's Day

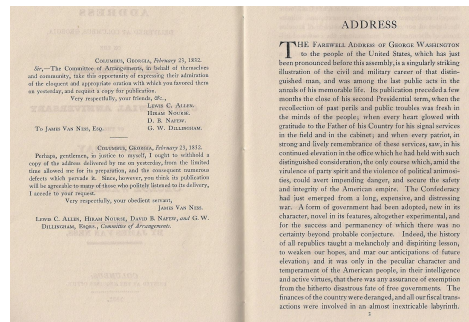

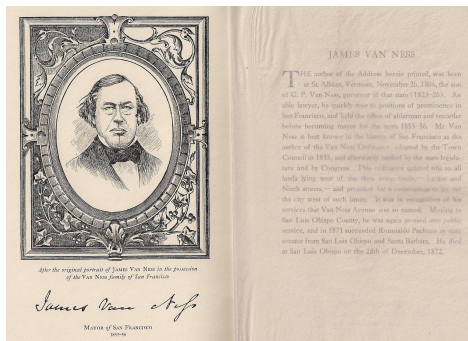

While officially designated as "Washington's Birthday" to honor the 1st president (Feb 22) on the third Monday of February, the holiday colloquially celebrates all U.S. Presidents, particularly including Abraham Lincoln (16th) due to his February 12th birthday. Originally established in 1885 to honor

George Washington, the holiday was shifted from February 22 to a Monday in 1971 by the Uniform Monday Holiday Act to create convenient three-day weekends. The shift, which places the holiday between Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays, led to the popular, though unofficial, name "Presidents' Day" by the 1980s, driven in part by retailer marketing. Today, it serves as a general celebration of the office of the presidency, though some states still hold individual celebrations for specific presidents.

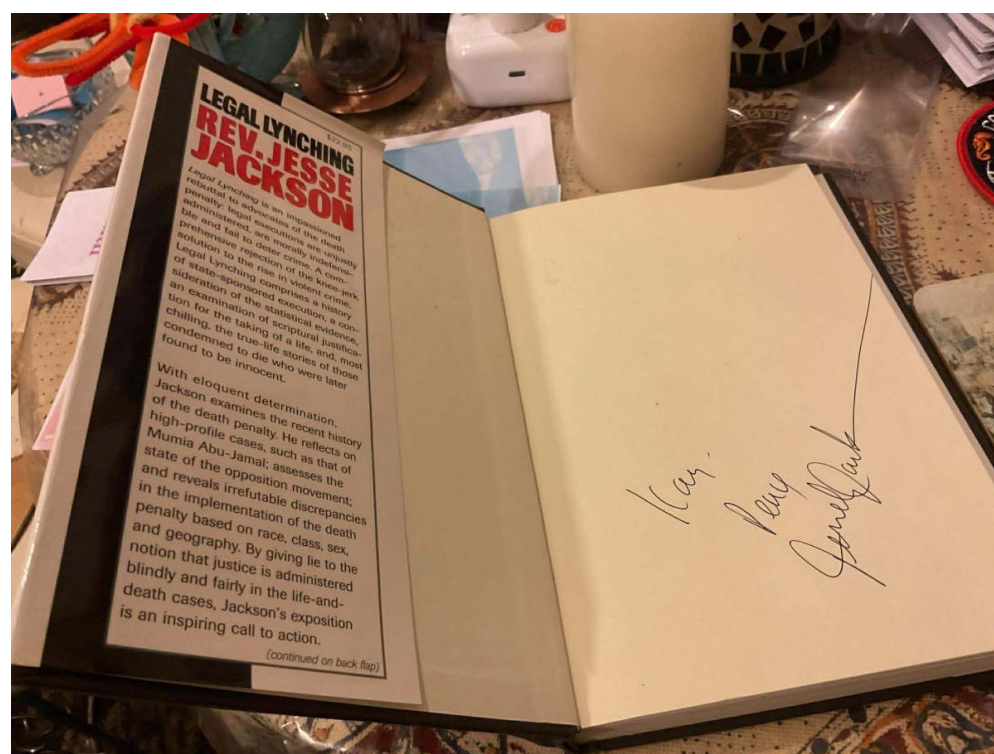

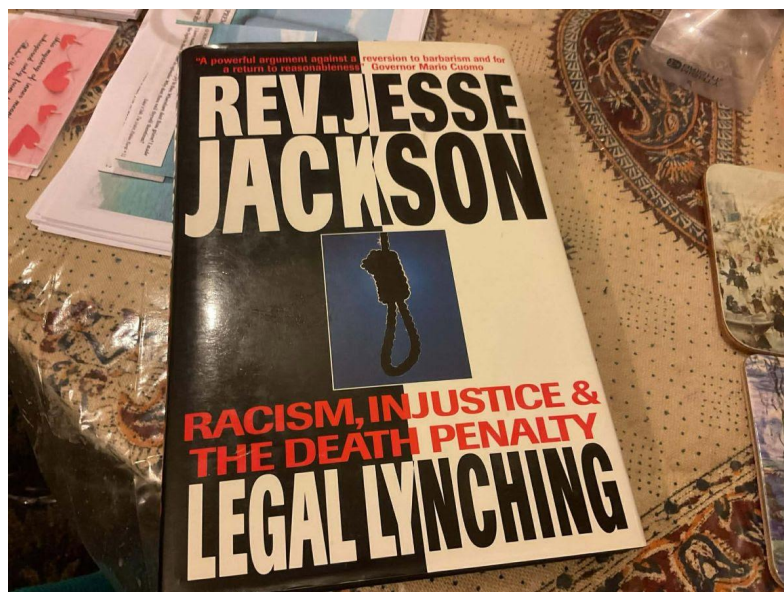

The Unity Museum's Co-founder Peter Van Ness' Great Great Grandfather, in his capacity as Mayor of San Francisco delivered the following address 2-22-1832, commemorating George Washington's Birthday.
