A Century Ago Queen Victoria's Granddaughter Visited Seattle

Queen Marie of Romania, being brought up in England as the granddaughter of Queen Victoria and eventually married and became Queen Marie of Romania.

It was during the event of the signing at the end of World War I in France that Queen Marie of Romania met Sam Hill and Waldorf Astoria. Both were invited to visit her in Romania and it was during this visit that it was suggested that she visit the U.S. During the New York World Fair 1926, she brought her children for this historic visit. She even had her own train that eventually arrived in Seattle as a guest of Sam Hill. It was during this visit that she connected with the first female Mayor in the U.S., Bertha Landes.

Several events occurred including a visit with 60 attendees from the WA State Women's Association at the Seattle Yacht Club. It was during that visit that she planted a tree. This was followed in the evening by a public garden party at Sam Hill's private home in Capitol Hill. One of the main purposes of the visit was to cut the ribbon at the Peace Arch on route to Canada.

The Unity Museum is excited to be participating September 17 in Day of Civic Engagement

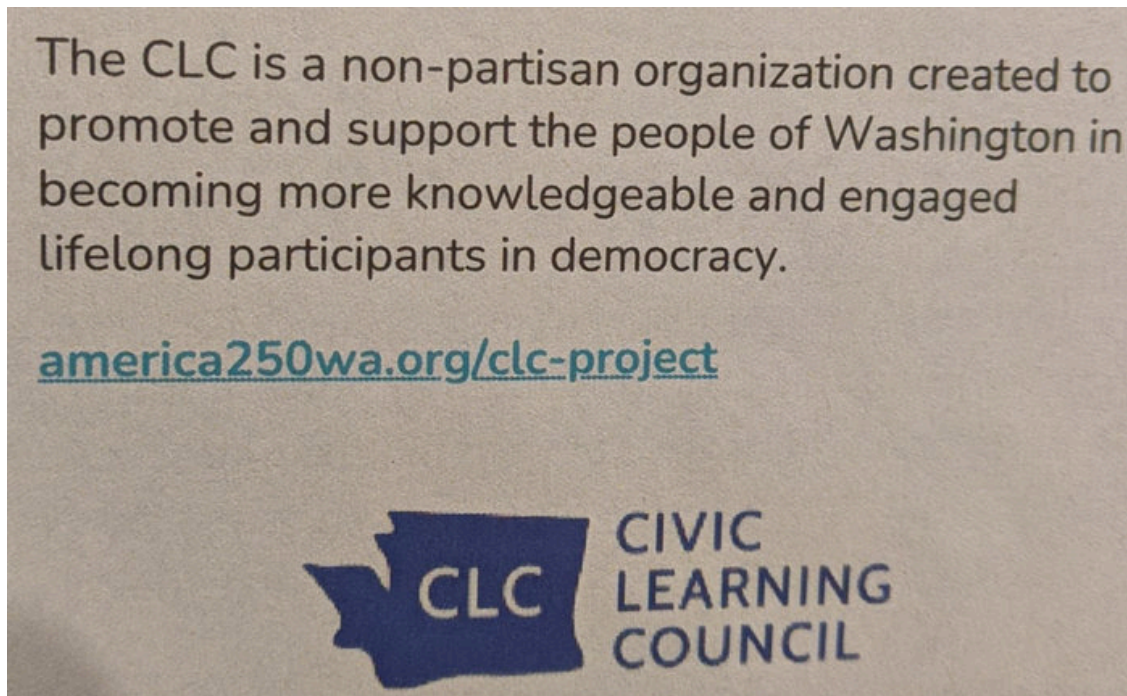

If anyone wants to register with us to volunteer, please call or email the Unity Museum. We are happy to assist you this Thursday with volunteer ideas.

The "America250WA" organization suggests the following civic engagement ideas: -register to vote, attend town hall, civics themed trivia, host or support a citizenship ceremony, take part in public surveys, or interview elected officials.

We can assist you with accomplishing these activities, or help you learn to give a tour at the museum, set up an exhibit, or engage in conversation. Civic Engagement is something that our Museum attendees and students care deeply about.

Engaging Young People

Youth250 is a dynamic, nonpartisan initiative created by the organization Made By Us to help capture young people's imaginations, ideas, and input around America's 250th.

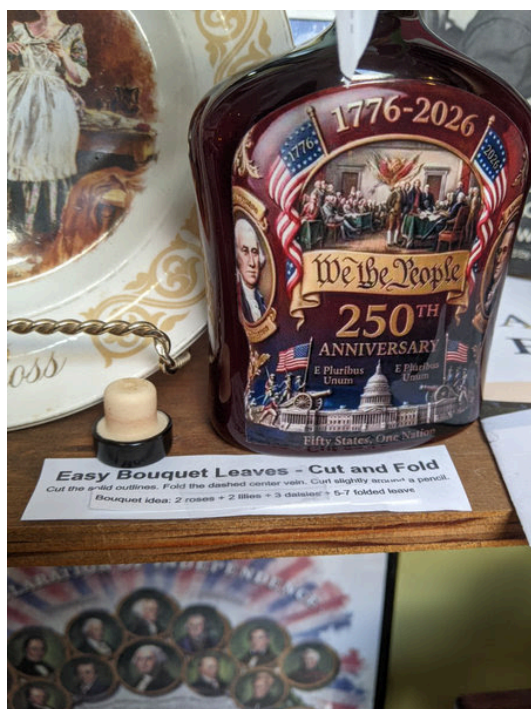

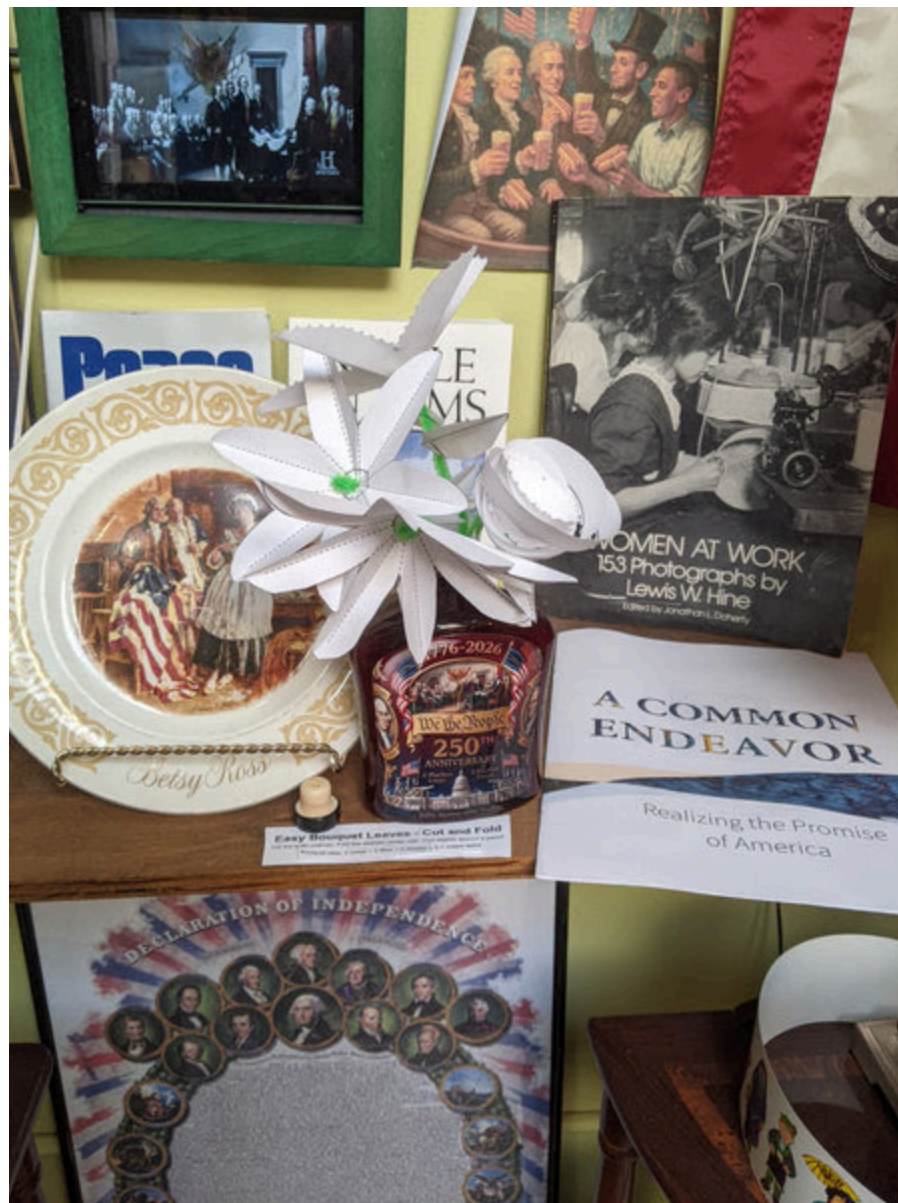

The 250th anniversary isn't just about 1776 but is also about the journey that shaped America into what it is today and how we prepare for its future.

Youth250 has a number of FREE resources available to any organization including:

- Youth250 Toolkit
- Gen Z Engagement Assessment
- Youth250 Bureau of Advisors
